

Rote memorization and spoon-fed learning are no longer acceptable for 21st Century Education.

It's Time for a Critical Thinking Revolution

Practical tools and support.
Revolutionary critical thinking instruction.

CRITICAL THINKING

Critical Thinking is the most essential 21st century skill but it is still a luxury good. Only 1 out of 10 educators teach critical thinking, and this educator usually only teaches at elite schools or to the most elite students.

THE PROBLEM

Teachers have difficulty in finding time and tools to teach critical thinking to all students.

Principals struggle with limited resources to develop and support teachers in delivering critical thinking instruction

How can we help teachers transform from asking "what" and "how to" to "why" and "what if?"
For ALL students?

The Solution

thinkLaw helps educators teach critical thinking to all students.

STANDARDS-ALIGNED CURRICULUM

An award-winning curriculum of teacher guides, student workbooks, and virtual support tools to help educators in the upper grades (4-12) teach critical thinking through real-life legal cases. thinkLaw's approach to critical thinking applies to even the youngest learners. The thinkLaw Early Elementary Edition (K-3) takes students through the same strategies used in law school but with Nursery Rhymes, Fairy Tales, and Folk Tales.

POWERFUL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

A 4-part series of interactive workshops with follow up one-on-one coaching and support to help teachers in all grades deliver rigorous and engaging critical thinking instruction through enhanced inquiry strategies based on the Socratic method and other powerful pedagogical practices.

ELL & SPED Accommodations Included

thinkLaw's Impact

"The illiterate of the 21st Century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn"

- Alvin Toffler

High Student Engagement

Rated thinkLaw favorably, or highly favorably

Improved willingness to apply critical thinking

Increased their understanding of different view points

Believed their ability to analyze arguments improved

If we must prepare students for the future, we must admit that critical thinking is the essential 21st century skill. So we can longer continue to treat critical thinking as a luxury good.

-Colin Seale, Founder|CEO of thinkLaw

To learn more about thinkLaw's innovative approach contact us now:

www.thinkLaw.us

(702) 318-7512 or colin@thinklaw.us

Connect with us:

 @thinkLawus  @thinkLawus  @thinkLaw

FREE Sample Lesson

Text THINK to 66866

ACLUNV COMMUNITY JUVENILE JUSTICE AWARD Recipient

TFA SHARK TANK: THE ONE DAY CHALLENGE Winner

NV GOVERNOR'S PITCH COMPETITION 1st Prize & People's Choice Award

